

Deadline definitions.

Rush orders always comes with a certain deadlines.

For the local made in Los Angeles area deadline is 100% guarantee once our local factory accept and customer paid by the cutting time.

For Overseas rush orders,

We can guarantee the ship out date once we accept your order on time.

But we can't guarantee 100% if the carrier will be able to deliver to your door as you set as deadline.

The reason is once we ship out your order from our factory on time and after that it handed over to the carrier, We have out of reach how they handle the packages and Our company can't take a responsibility for that incidence.

Usually most of the packages arrive roughly in 10 business days for rush. If we got lucky 7-8 days.

But rarely takes 1-3 days longer depending on carrier handling.

So for the 100% guaranteed deadline job, We recommend local made (higher cost by US labor) To meet your needs.

Please note the above conditions.
